COUNCIL CAMPAIGNING WAS INTERESTING

Wrangell Institute had an interesting week of campaigning leading up to the Student Council election. In each of the upper classrooms students chose candidates for president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and councilman.

The students have put up campaign posters all over the buildings. Some were in the dining hall, on the backs of students in the dorms and the school.

On Friday, September 29th, each candidate and manager gave speeches. All were very interesting. The voters were all excited, yelling whistling and happy.

What will the election bring?

The Wrangell students need officers. The students started campaigning on Friday morning, September 29, 1967. They held the campaign speeches in the gym. There were five students in each group campaigning. In all there were twenty-five candidates.

Most candidates had a manager to introduce them to the audience. When they finished the speeches the students and teachers thought the candidates did a good job.

THE TRIP TO WRANGELL INSTITUTE

Some of the school students started the trip to Wrangell Institute on September the fourth. The other students came to Wrangell before that time. Some of them came in late for school.

While the students were coming this way, some of them had earaches because the engines were too loud for them. Some of the students slept in the plane. When they came to the Juneau airport some of the students slept on the chairs again. The students there at the airport for a couple of hours, then they finally started for Wrangell Institute.

MUSIC CLASS IS OPEN

In music everyone that wanted to join the band and the chorus can. Some did and some didn't. The ones that joined the band are practicing now to play instruments. Some are learning to play drums, piano, clarinet, guitar or other instruments.

The music teacher is Mr. LaMarr. Every Friday he teaches us the notes, what they are and what they are called. He gave us workbooks to work in.

BOYS CHECK OUT GAMES

In the dorm some boys check out games anytime they want to. There are different kinds of games to play, like bats, balls, basketball and so on. Most boys like to check out bats and balls. Some of them check out basketballs when the weather is not raining.

There is a great game called ping pong, which most of the boys like to play.

Girls and boys play in the gym on weekends.

FINDING THINGS ON THE BEACH

Here at Wrangell the kids go down to the beach to pick some rocks and shells. Some of the kids keep or show the rocks to others. Sometimes the students pick things from the beach for science or for others. Students also see starfish and small crabs. Some girls scream when they see little crabs.

A WONDERFUL TRIP TO TOWN

On Saturday about 2:00 p.m. some students went on a town tour. They rode to town on a bus. While on the way to town they saw many wonderful things. There were many houses and trailers along the mountainside. There were also many cars. There was a large potato garden which had a fence around it.

A cemetery was seen. The town's people have a very neat cemetery.

Students saw many motor boats and fishing boats. Finally it was time to return to Wrangell Institute. What a wonderful trip it was!

GROUPS STUDIED SPICES

Spices were expensive and hard to get in the time of Columbus, but it's easy today, because Mrs. LaMarr, our social studies teacher, got some spices from Mr. Winslow in the kitchen and let us taste them in class. They are good for flavoring food, but awful to taste.Adolph Cleveland

We studied about spice and how it came to Europe. We tasted each of the spices. Some tasted good and some awful. We'll be studying more things in social studies. Social studies is fun.Annie Loon

Anna Willis

This girl is starting her second year at the Institute. Being popular seems to be natural to her. She makes friends easily. Her home is in the Anchorage district, and there are others from her family here. You saw her many times during the campaigning and election for the student council.

WHO IS SHE???

A medium height, handsome boy, is the choice this month. This is his first year at the Institute. He came to Wrangell from a town along the Alaska Marine Highway. His town is one of the places in Alaska that you can drive a car all the way to the lower states.

WHO IS HE???

A PIN FOR MRS. STOKES

Mrs. Walker presented a pin to Mrs. Stokes for serving ten years with the Bureau of Indian Affairs. Mrs. Stokes use to be a student at Wrangell when she was a teenager, and now she is working for BIA at Wrangell Institute in the Girl's dorm.

SURPRISED STUDENTS GOING TO EDGECUMBE

Mr. Fisher has advised four students that they will be going to Mt. Edgecumbe. They will probably leave some time next month. The names of these lucky students are Nikki Shanigan, Harding Sam, Flora Edwin and Alex Dushkin.

They are waiting anxiously for their parents to give them permission.

Susan Jeppson and Anna Willis helped serve the food. When they finished serving they each had a piece of cake.

Everyone enjoyed the birthday dinner.

A CAMPING PLACE IS FUN

Every summer the people at St. Michael go to a camp for fishing, picking berries, hunting moose, reindeer, ducks and other game.

Archie Atchak's family went to a camp at First Cabin. It's around the place of Cannel. There was Billy Myomick's family and Evan Chiskok's family camping at First Cabin too.

The Atchak family camped at First Cabin for about three weeks in the middle of July. Every morning they would get ready to leave the tents and go up the hill to pick salmonberries, blackberries, blueberries and redberries.

Terase Chiskok filled one barrel of salmonberries. Her helpers were Pauline, Josephine and Anastasia Chiskok.

Alexandria Atchak, mother of the Atchak, filled three barrels of salmonberries mixed with blueberries, blackberries and redberries. Teddy, Allen, Molly, Oliver and Eva Atchak were her helpers.

After the two families picked berries, there was a little vacation at the same place. It was fun camping for three weeks.

SCHOOL IS FUN

School is just starting and there is a lot to learn in every subject. If the students want to be smart, they will have to study and work hard.

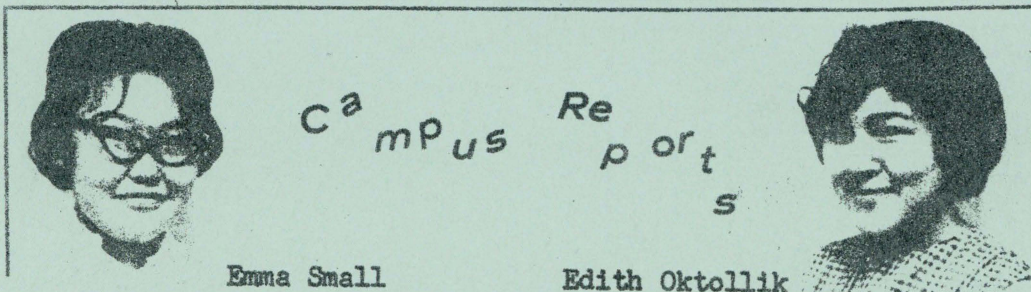

The students will have forty-five minutes in each class, and five minutes to go to the next class. There are study halls in the morning and afternoons on every school day. During every week there are tests. Some students say it is too boring for them, but study hard, then after awhile students will be knowing more things. School is fun for everyone!

SCIENCE PROJECTS ARE UNDERWAY

Group 1 - In this group an attractive bulletin board has been made. The group has also constructed a simulated aquarium with fish and plants in it. The aquarium contains a siphoning setup and some of the gases found in fish tanks.

With guppies as a start, the following have been added: tadpoles, newt, a turtle, snails and goldfish.

Group 3 - Here a project has been started on thermometers and temperatures.

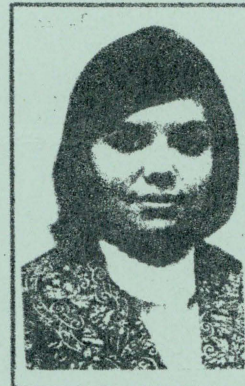

General - In rock collecting, the students found many kinds including granite, shale, sandstone, and quartz. The rocks were broken apart for more accurate identification. The students did research to discover what they had found.

They run up the road about one mile, then turn to the right, and go down a road about one half mile then turn and run about another mile to the finish line. After that they walk down the road to the bridge. They run back in groups.

They ran against the town team around the last of September. They tried hard but the town team won. The coach, Mr. Daly, is planning to run against the town team again.
